- in the morning(s) / afternoon(s) / evening(s)

- at night / weekends, etc.

- in summer / June, etc.

- on Mondays / weekdays, etc.

WH- QUESTIONS

We use question words (who, what, where, when, whose, and how) to ask for information. The question word comes at the beginning of the question.

What time does the movie start?

Where does the story take place?

Who does he play football with?

When does the drama class start?

LIKE, LOVE, HATE + -ING FORM

We use the –ing form after verbs which express preference such as love, like, enjoy and hate.

She loves collecting teaspoons.

They hate watching historical dramas.

I like writing poems.

TELLING THE TIME AND THE DATE

We can ask for the time saying:

What time is it?

What is the time?

Do you have the time?

Can you tell me the time?

Use It's + time to say what time it is.

07:00 It's seven (o'clock).

02:30 It's half past two. OR It's two thirty.

05:15 It's quarter past five. OR It's five fifteen.

10:45 It's quarter to eleven. OR It's ten forty-five.

08:10 It's ten past eight. OR It's eight ten.

11:50 It's ten to twelve. OR It's eleven fifty.

We use

- a.m. between midnight (0:00) & noon (12:00)

- p.m. between noon (12:00) & midnight (0:00)

We ask the date in several ways. We can add the and of when we reply.

A : What date is it?

B : It's the third of March. (3rd March)

A : What's the date today?

B : It's September the eleventh. (September 11th)

MAKING INVITATIONS

We can make invitations using the following expressions:

Let's do some window shopping.

Shall we eat Thai food?

Would you like to join us for a drink?

Why don't we have a cup of coffee after school?

Are you in the mood for a movie?

Do you fancy going out for a meal at the weekend?

How about going to the theatre tomorrow?

What about talking to face to face?

We can accept an invitation saying:

Oh, what a great idea! / Cool! / I'd love to, thanks. / Why not?

That sounds great / nice / lovely.

That's very kind of you.

Thank you for inviting me.

We can refuse an invitation saying:

Well, I'd love to but I have other plans.

Sorry, but I can't make it.

I'm really sorry, but I've got something else on.

Thanks for asking, but I'm afraid I'm busy.
